Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 20 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Thunderstorms easing overnight, but staying muggy. Hot again Wednesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
A very warm evening, with the chance of one or two thunderstorms, but these gradually dying out overnight. Otherwise staying dry, with long clear spells, but perhaps some low cloud for northern areas around dawn. Feeling humid. Minimum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Wednesday:
Any early cloud soon burning away. Another sunny, very warm, or hot day follows, although cooler along the coast. The odd thunderstorm remains possible later in the day. Maximum temperature 31 deg C (88 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Sunny Thursday and still very warm or hot. Less hot Friday, and perhaps cloudier at first, but staying dry and largely sunny. Cloudier and cooler Saturday with heavy thundery showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.